

March 13, 2020

UPDATE: March 24, 2020

This pandemic is a very fluid event with restrictions and closures being put into effect almost daily by the local, state and federal governments. The Commack Public Library will continue to be closed until at least Sunday, April 19th. We have been actively adding links to our webpage and Facebook to assist you while we are closed. As this situation further develops, we will update you on the status of Library operations.

Dear Commack Public Library Community,

The COVID-19 Coronavirus is of great concern to all of us at the Commack Public Library. The Library is committed to the health and well-being of both our patrons and library staff. Out of an abundance of caution and due to the closure of the Commack School District, the Library Administration in consultation with the members of the Board of Trustees, has made the decision to close the Library beginning Monday, March 16 through Monday, March 30th.

In the next several days Library Administration will be meeting with the Commack Public Library Board of Trustees to outline a plan of offering limited Library services including telephone and e-mail reference assistance. Please be assured that during this closure, fines will be waived until further notice. Although the book drop will be available, please understand that you do not have to return your materials until the library reopens to the public.

As always, our online resources are available 24-7! Download eBooks, magazines, music, videos and audiobooks. Access dozens of resources, all from the comfort of your home, by visiting our website at, www.commackpubliclibrary.org

Please visit our website, www.commackpubliclibrary.org or our social media platforms (Facebook and Twitter) for the most up to date information regarding Library operations. Questions may be directed to our Director, Laurie Rosenthal or our Assistant Director, Joanne Albano.

Sincerely,

Laurie Rosenthal
Library Director

laurie@commackpubliclibrary.org

Joanne Albano
Assistant Director

jalbano@commackpubliclibrary.org